PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Welcome to this month's of free wheeling.

As winter approaches and the roads become wet please remember to take extra care out there especially in the bush the old 'saying look before you leap', comes into mind when you cant see the bottom of bog holes. i.e. at last year's snow trip (yes there is another snow trip planned towards the end of July this year as well) someone ended up stuck in the bog and had to be rescued from it in sub zero temps, it was very funny but a very chilly reminder to poke a stick in a bog to see if it's passable.

Now for some more news. The committee's term only has a couple of months left and we would like you to think about if you would make a good addition to the committee as there are a few of us stepping down from our roles and this frees up space for other club members to come along and help drive the club in a new direction.

Lastly, club membership fees are due by the end of June. Please try to make the deadline as the price rise will occur as of the 1st of July. Any payments made after the July meeting, will have to pay the new price of $70 for single membership and $80 for dual/family membership. Please see the last page of this month's newsletter for the club's renewal form. Payments can be processed online, if you require the banking details, please contact Steve our Treasurer for the details.

See you out there

Trip reports

Night run 5th April. Enter through Black spur. Played on Dom Dom saddle. Played in a single mud puddle.

Castle Maine day trip: No 4wd and started too early. Stopped at a market for a look around. Had a pit stop at an old converted Fire station. Saw a lot of Ferraris. Went to the area of Harcourt's and sampled a lot at the local wineries.

Wobonga. North of Mt Bulla. Nice campsite. Looked at some huts and William Hovell Lake. Camped on Rose River at around 3pm, nice and early, then had happy hour. Brett met a 'crazy lady in the bushes'. Lots of great tracks graded.

The Playgrounds - MacFarlane Flat

The trip started on Thursday night with 3 cars staying the night at the Maffra Football ground - Friday morning meeting point was Bairnsdale at the Scottish Restaurant for a 'quick' feed with half the population of Victoria. Once maps were consulted we set off for Omeo. We rumbled into town and enjoyed lunch by the river before we finally found some dirt roads. We made our way along Mackenzie Road through private property to the State Forest, aired down and onto the Sisters Track. We turned onto Old Mill track and noticed

After the photo shoot we carried on up the track in search of the 'Water Wheel' that was noted on the maps. After a few consults to said map we hiked down the steep hill to where the wheel rested. To the amazement of Ian the bearings still worked effortlessly. We scrambled back up the hill, at the time we thought it was a long way up, we didn't realise after that the next day this was but a mere dawdle !!!

It was getting about time to find somewhere to camp and we made our way along Limestone Road to Native Dog Flat Camping area, being Easter it was busy the only empty camp had 12 horses and floats coming in - time to find another site.

Next plan was - to head up Cobberas Track, a rather rocky track. We found a campsite, perfect for four vehicles, near the river - no horses.

Written by: Nikki & Brett movement in the bushes, a small herd of Brumbies dashed past, further up the track two young inquisitive brumbies couldn't resist the urge to find out what these big iron horses were.

EASTER SATURDAY - By Gary Smith

We awoke to a cold frosty morning in the high country. After breakfast, and allowing a bit of time to dry tents etc., we turned sharp left out of camp onto MacFarlane's Flat Track. This took most of us several goes to get around the corner, but "Tail end Charlie" Ian was smart enough to reverse out of camp and then drive forward alleviating the tight turn.

As we wound our way along the track the scenery was forever changing. As we descended, Trip Leaders Mark and Catherine had the opportunity to talk to a commercial Tag Along Trip guide. He recommended a campsite and also passed on some handy track info. Later along the track they met the Local ranger who had declined our MVO access.

We parked at the and had a quick setting off to find and a crashed DC3 long (long) walk former, but not 6:00 we got back us feeling tired start of the MVO track bite to eat before the source of the Murray site at 12:30pm. After a we discovered the the wreck. At about to the vehicles, most of and sore. Soon afterwards, our leaders found the recommended site (thanks to the recommendation of the commercial Tag Along Trip guide), and it was great, even had plenty of fire wood pre-cut.

We gathered some more wood and settled down to a hearty meal under overcast skies, around a great fire.

Easter Sunday

After having such a exercising day yesterday, there was no rush on getting heading off for the day. Mark's knee wasn't doing to well, so I took over driving and Nikki joined me. We continued on down McFarlane track, came across some steep parts on the tracks, which both of us girls took head on and much to Brett wanting to turn around and have a go himself.

We came to the most North-East intersection in Victoria at McFarlane Track & Ingeegoodbee track. Then took a stop off at the helipad and took in the views of the surroundings and took plenty of photos. We came out onto Snowy River Road and headed down to Suggan Buggan for lunch by the river. It was discussed and decided to pass McKillops Bridge and dedicated another whole weekend over this way.

We made good time travelling down Gelantipy Road, then we turned off down towards the Snowy National Park, this again took us down some steep tracks. We had to travel down Running Creek track into a private property and across the famous Snowy River. We tried to locate a campsite along the river, but cause of a long weekend alot of people are out also enjoying the weekend.

We continued along and came along Hicks campsite, which was a huge opened grassy area. Luckily enough there was a drop toilet, so we all set up camp, the fire was stocked and soon enough the munchies were out for happy hour. Thanks to Gary & Annie for dinner, as they cooked up what food was left in their car. (Apparently there was alot more food, than what was brought with them).

Everyone arrived home safe and well. Thanks for every one who attended the trip, you were the one's that made it a great trip.

Ian, sorry about your report.

Mark & Catherine Felton

Most members stayed up late, shared some laughs and stories.
Brett.....meow...

Everyone woke early, breakfast consumed and camp packed up. We made our way down south, towards Orbost. We stopped off at a fire tower and had morning tea, then continued on and came across plenty of firewood. They had cleared alot of wood off the track, about 2 metres high and went on for kilometres. We came a log across a track, which all hands were on deck to clear the whole width of the track, (not just wide enough for one vehicle).

We finally made our way out of the bush and came into the back of Orbost, where we aired up and headed to the park to have a bite to eat for lunch before heading home.

Gary, Annie & Tommy headed home early and said their good byes. The rest of us, ate lunch and chatted about the best bits of the weekend. It was getting later in the day and more traffic was also heading off, so we made our way back home.

Lots of Trips!

Togs, Tastings and Telegraph Stations - a day trip to Castlemaine

An early morning meeting point just past Calder Park and 2 four wheel drives and a car headed out onto the highway to Castlemaine to begin a day of exploration and end it with some wine tasting.

Before too long we arrived at the Wesley Hill farmers market (not long after 8am) Cat asked why it was so early and it was pointed out to her that she had us meeting at 7am and it only takes an hour to get there....so we took our time wandering around the stalls and buying all sorts of goodies from brownies to the weeks vegetables. There is something nice about buying fresh vegetables and produce direct from or closer to the farmer.

With that market done we headed into Castlemaine to see if there were any other markets on in town. There was not however the information centre gave us a historical walking tour map and Cat lead us on a tour of the towns oldest historical buildings. Many buildings were erected through the goldrush boom time in the middle 1800's. The Telegraph Station (bottom right photo) was built in 1856.

We stopped at an old fire station for coffee where there were chairs for adults and chairs for kids... some of us got confused as to which they were - Mark and Cat!

After the morning caffeine injection it was time to hit the antique stores in town with the main shop being The Restorers Barn - the have everything from the practical to the collectable. Door handles and wheels to couches and toys. Mark was eyeing up the Cadillac couch, and Sally and Tristan found a decanter (a sign of things to come...). We were also introduced to the local sweet, Castlemaine Rock, needless to say a couple of tins were purchased. Mark was lucky that Cat did not buy out the shop but I am sure she wanted to.

After all the shopping lunch was a tough decision as there seemed to be a number of cafes to choose from. Togs won the day and we had lunch on a rooftop in Castlemaine. The rain threatened a couple of times but held off so we could enjoy a tasty lunch. We finished lunch off with dessert courtesy of James' family. The brownies really stood out. Yum! As we were walking back to the car following lunch and the Restorers Barn, Sally spotted a bright yellow Ferrari and then a red one, a blue one, a Testarossa,... yes the Ferrari club was in town. Mark's eyes lit up and we had to do a walk past all of them just to make sure that they were all ok.

Once we dragged Mark away from the Ferraris we headed off to Buda House to have a look at a family history. The house was built in 1861 and the same family lived in it for 118 years. Each room was laid out as it had been through the early years of history and showed how the family lived. It is remarkably well preserved. The gardens were a bit run down but you could imagine what it was like in its peak, it would have been spectacular.

Cat and Tristan led the tastings at the winery's and nothing was left to chance. White wine, Red wine, Cider, Fortified Wine, Alcoholic Ginger Beer were all on the list. Good thing that there were enough sober drivers to go around. We also got a chance to taste a new sparkling apple juice at Harcourts. James and his family bought some wine after initial nerves in the tasting... once they got going though they seemed to enjoy it. There were even chickens playing cricket at Harcourts Vineyard.

Mark and Cat left the group to head to Shepparton (hence the car) and James, his group and Sally and Tristan headed back into town.

The consensus was that we needed to come back for a weekend, find somewhere to camp, do some four wheel driving and visit the wineries again.
